INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

To the Shareholder Regency Securities, Inc. Irvine, California

I have audited the accompanying balance sheets of Regency Securities, Inc. (a California corporation), as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, and the related statements of income (loss) and retained earnings and cash flows for the years then ended. These statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. My responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on my audits.

I conducted my audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards in the United States of America. Those standards require that I plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amount and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. I believe that my audits provide a reasonable basis for my opinion.

In my opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Regency Securities, Inc., as of December 31, 2003 and 2002, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

My examination was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the basic financial statements taken as a whole. The information contained in the statements of changes in stockholder's equity, computation of basic net capital requirement, computation of net capital and reconciliation of computation of net capital is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the basic financial statements, but is supplementary information required by rule 17a-5 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the examination of the basic financial statements and, in my opinion, is fairly stated in all material respect in relation to the basic financial statements taken as a whole.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

December 31, 2002

1. Organization:

Regency Securities, Inc. (the Company) was incorporated on December 1, 1978 under the laws of the state of California. The Company is an introductory firm that only deals in investment company shares such as mutual funds, variable annuities and variable life. As an introductory firm the Company does not hold securities for its clients nor do any other organizations hold securities on behalf of the Company.

The Company conducts operations as a broker-dealer.

2. Summary of Accounting Policies:

- A. Basis of Accounting: The accompanying financial statements are prepared on the accrual basis of accounting.
- B. Revenue Recognition: The nature of income is generated from doing business in the retail sales of redeemable investment company shares and variable contacts on a subscription or application basis only. Securities transactions (and related commission revenue and expense) are recorded on a settlement date basis, generally the third business day following the transaction date.
- C. Depreciation: Property and equipment are stated at cost. Depreciation of property and equipment is calculated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, generally ranging from three to five years.
- D. Income Taxes: The company has elected under the Internal Revenue Code to be an S corporation. In lieu of corporation income taxes, the shareholder of an S corporation is taxed on his proportionate share of the Company's taxable income. Therefore, no provision or liability for federal income taxes has been included in these financial statements. The California Franchise tax was paid in the amount of $800 for 2003 and 2002 respectively.
- E. Use of Estimates: Management of the Company has made estimates relating to the reporting of assets at the balance date and reporting of income during the period to prepare these financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Actual results could differ from those estimates even though the differences should be insignificant. No bad debt expense incurred in 2003 or 2002.

To whom it may concern:

I have examined the financial statements of Regency Securities, Inc. for the year ended December 31, 2003 and have issued my report thereon dated February 23, 2004. As part of my examination, I made a study and evaluation of the Company's system of internal accounting control to the extent I considered necessary to evaluate the system as required by generally accepted auditing standards. The purpose of my study and evaluation, which included obtaining an understanding of the accounting system, was to determine the nature, timing, and extent of the auditing procedures necessary for expressing an opinion on the financial statements.

My study and evaluation disclosed no material weakness or inadequacies in the Company's system of internal control.
